EXPERIENCE AND KNOWLEDGE,

THE KEY TO A BRIGHTER FUTURE

A Thought

Ah yes, I can finally visualize you, coming back into view. Familiar aspects starting to show again.
Could it really have been all that bad?
Could you really have been all that sad?
A love is a love, whether have or had.

Ah yes, I can realistically visualize you, coming now into view. Familiar aspects starting to show.
Breathe comes as does the tigers' burning stare!
Left hands are good for direction.
Signs of life come with connection.
Cries of foul come with rejection.

Neal Bailey Harper

A Thought

I could get so into you,
that it might scare you, or me.
Don't misconstrue, I speak within limits.
I smile for days of fun.

I could get so into you,
that it might scare you, and you,
don't misconstrue, may choose an angle.
I speak within limits, for growth knows no boundaries.
I smile for days of fun.

I could get so into you,
that if it pleases you, you, don't misconstrue,
would rise at the sense of nearness.
I speak within limits, for space is yours
without asking.
I smile for days ... and nights of fun.

Neal Bailey Harper

A Thought — (College Life)

We sometimes become so engrossed in our surroundings, so mesmerized by our seemingly pertinent habits;

That at one time or another, some of us relax our priorities.

The main one being that we attend this university for the specific purpose of leaving it, preferably abundant with knowledge and accompanied by some type of positive certificate.

Somewhere along this road of frivolous intrigue and self enchantment, we can become lackadaisical in our strive for achievement. Lackadaisical to the point of disconcert. Lackadaisical almost to the point of disinterest.

We contemplate on our objectives
Become disdainful of ourselves.

Then deeper and deeper we fall prey ...
prey to our unconsciousness.

Neal Bailey-Harper

Short Comings

There never seems to be enough time
yet it always seems too much
To chance a will, to will a chance,
Or anything else of the such.

There never seems to be enough people who rhyme
yet they always seem to be there.
To give then take, to take then give,
Or anything else more the rare.

There never seems to be enough happier times
yet we always seem to settle for less.
To want or to have, to have or to want,
Or anything else for the best.

There never seems to be enough time
yet it always seems too much,
To live and just love, to love and just live,
Or anything else quite the such.

Neal Bailey-Harper

A Journey To Somewhere

My secrets are those of common knowledge.
Those that warrant any fears.
Fit and mold into lollipops and scraped knees.
Choked and strangled in a world of penny emotions.
I'm taking a trip. A journey to somewhere.

I wish I could fly like an eagle in the sky.
I'd see some sights I always wanted to see;
then again,
I don't know what I'd do.
Its sometimes troublesome for me to make up my mind.
I would like to take a trip. A journey to somewhere.

Stand on top of Mt. Everest and holler for help!
then again,
I think that would reveal my darkside.
It would do me good to get away for a while.
Cry a little

Take a long trip. A journey to somewhere.

Dr. James E. Shepard founded what is now North Carolina Central University in 1910, as the National Religious Training School and Chautauqua. He served the institution as its president until his death, October 6, 1947.

James Edward Shepard was born November 3, 1875, as the nation was beginning its celebration of the centennial. Black Americans were observing the end of the first decade of emancipation.

He was the son of a distinguished Baptist minister, the Reverend S. Augustus Shepard. He received his undergraduate and professional training in pharmacy at Shaw University in his native Raleigh.

He also held degrees from Muskingum College, Selma University, and Howard University.

Between 1898 and 1900 Dr. Shepard was comparer of deeds in the Recorder's Office in Washington, D.C. From 1899 to 1905 he was deputy collector of internal revenue at Raleigh. From 1905 to 1909, he was field superintendent of the International Sunday School Association.

As the National Religious Training School and Chautauqua, the institution begun by Dr. Shepard in 1910 has 130 students, with no permanent buildings on the campus. By the time of his death, the value of the physical plant was well over $2,000,000. There were 1,500 students and 72 faculty members.

Dr. Shepard was a celebrated orator and preacher. As early as 1910, he was the only Black speaker at the World Sunday School Convention in Rome. His annual radio addresses to the people of North Carolina gave evidence of his deep interest in public affairs and interracial relations.

Dr. Shepard was often asked at the end of his life to consent to the casting of a bust or life mask of himself. He would tell visitors of the answer given by Sir Christopher Wren to similar requests. Wren would point to London's St. Paul's Cathedral, which he designed, and say, "This is my monument."

Visitors would be conducted to a window overlooking the campus of North Carolina College. They would stand looking out that window with Dr. Shepard who with a sweeping gesture said, "This is my monument. If I am not remembered for this, I will be remembered for nothing."

1980-81

On October 16, 1980 Donald Byrd's ensemble appeared at N.C.C.U. as part of the Alfonso Elder Student Union's efforts to provide entertainment. Mr. Byrd is also a poet, collector of Black Art, a philosopher, and a teacher. He began playing the trumpet as a youngster in Detroit and at the age of eighteen he was in New York, the Jazz capital of the fifties. Byrd moved on to perform with such jazz greats as, Charlie Parker, Lester Young, Corent Basie, Horace Silver, and Ella Fitzgerald. At this time the Eagle Yearbook staff and students would like to express their thanks to Mr. Donald Byrd for his contributions to North Carolina Central University.

Invisible Man: Prologue

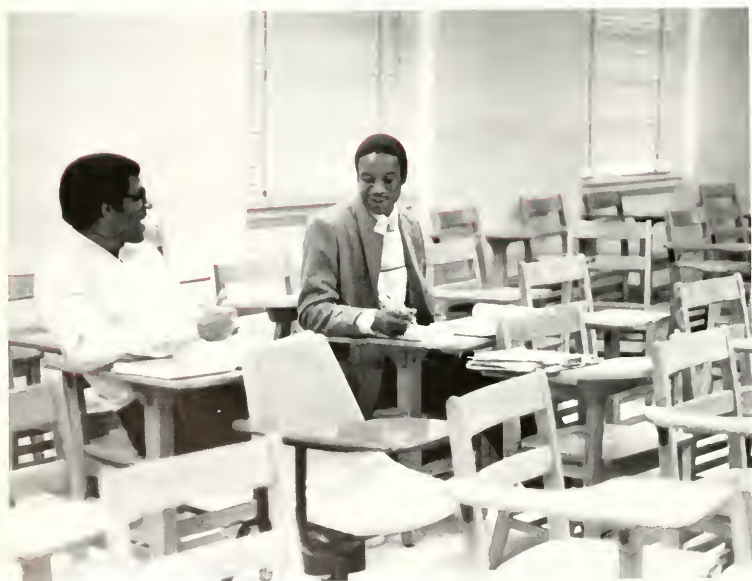

I am an invisible man. No. I am not a spook like those who Edgar Allan Poe; nor am I one of your Hollywood-movie ectoplasms. I am a man of substance, of flesh and bone, fiber and liquids — and I might even be said to possess a mind. I am invisible, understand, simply because people refuse to see me. Like the bodiless heads you see sometimes in circus sideshows, it is as though I have been surrounded by mirrors of hard, distorting glass. When they approach me they see only my surroundings, themselves, or figments of their imagination — indeed, everything and anything except me.

Invisible Man Ralph Ellison

Black History Month

February 1-28, 1981

North Carolina Central University is observing Black History Month from 1 February thru 28 February 1981. The national theme provided by the Association for the Study of Afro-American Life and History is "Black History: A Role Model for Youth." The activities include exhibits, lectures, panel discussions, films, plays, and music recitals. The major lectures for this years program include presentations by Rosa Parks, who is affectionately known as the "mother of the civil rights movement;" Yosef-Ben Jochanna, who is an advocate of black nationalism; Bishop Alfred G. Dunston, A.M.E. Zion, 2nd Episcopal district, who has a scholarly and intimate acquaintance with the history and culture of the Black Church; and Gerald Gill, who is a historian concerned with the neo-conservative mood in America today and how it affects Black people. The Black History Month celebration is made possible by grants from the Chancellor, the Vice-Chancellor of Student Affairs, the Forum Committee, the Student Union, and the Student Government. The program is coordinated by the History and Social Science Department. Members of the University Community are invited to attend all activities.

Sunday — EAGLES' NIGHT LIVE: The first bright new twist got the "week of wonders" started with a bang. EAGLES' NIGHT LIVE, directed by Curtis Massey, and held in B.N. Duke Auditorium was a big success. The program consisted of students impersonating famous personalities and musical acts, along with a couple of skits.

Our very own famous Dean Blue and Dr. Bryant, with other members of the faculty and staff also joined in for an old fashioned good time. It was the only show in town with Stephanie Mills, Richard Pryor and Prince on the same stage. And that's something that will never happen again!

Monday — CHOIRBALL: No one really knew what to expect in jam-packed B.N. Duke Auditorium Monday night. All they came knowing was the title of the show, but by the time they left they knew that the North Carolina Central University Concert Touring Choirs, under the direction of Dr. Charles Gilchrist, were far more versatile than any choirs they'd ever seen. The Choirball, directed by Neal Bailey-Harper, was a delightful musical comedy which showed members of the choir in a totally different context than their standard excellent concert performances. Many members did solos or duets, original songs written by choir members were performed, as well as some crazy commercials and a couple of wild skits.

Wednesday — SALUTE TO THE FOOTBALL TEAM AND GREEK SOCIAL FELLOWSHIP SHOW: This year's salute to the football team was different, because we weren't just saluting any football team. We were saluting the CIAA Champion Eagles of N.C.C.U. A packed house in McDougald Gymnasium applauded the Eagles as they were presented numerous cakes, plaques, and even a red and white football given to them by the ladies of Delta Sigma Theta. And the cheerleaders, outside of just generally keeping the crowd totally pumped up, pulled a little crazy spoof of their own.

And ah yes, the step show. The Ques came out thunderous in gold face, the AØQues in white face, the Swings in white tux, the Alphas ran the play of the year, and the Kappas pulled a disappearing coup that rocked the gym. Who won? Who cares! But who won the class competition? The Seniors!!

Always one of the wildest affairs of the week is the Mock Funeral, and this year's was no exception. The Mock Funeral, directed by Tina Torain, was held in McDougald Gymnasium at 7:00 P.M. and featured an exceptional cast, headed by freshman standout Greg Staplefoot as the preacher. The craziness went on for almost two hours and was greatly appreciated by another packed house. As usual the Mock Funeral is something you just hate to miss. And, if you did, you missed it!

Right after the Mock Funeral everyone ambushed B.N. Duke Auditorium to see the wonders of Iv Weiner, or better known as Mr. Fingers, and his magical show. It too was something wonderful to see and further proof that the hand is quicker than the eye.

FASHION REIGNS AT NCCU

Homecoming Fashion Show

This year's Homecoming Fashion show, directed by Jesse Brown and Tyrone Little, featured some of the Eagle's slickest dressers in some of their most sheik attire. The show was held in McDougald Gymnasium under dim lights with fabulous stage decorations. The models wore everything from mystical morning wear to magical evening threads. It was truly a fashion extravaganza.

S.O.S. BAND

In McDougald Gymnasium on Friday night, some cool casual callers paid a visit to their favorite Southern Girls. MAZE, featuring Frankie Beverly, doing gold record hits, from "Happy Feelin'" to "You" to "Feel That You're Feelin'" to the present "Joy and Pain", left the crowd in complete awe, just when they were overcoming shock waves sent through them by the powerful sounds of the S.O.S. BAND, who were probably more than anyone expected. With the new and different THIRD GENERATION BAND opening up the show, another packed house had no choice but to enjoy this one!

EDITORIAL

Fellow Eagles:

What a year it has been! We saw new leaders take office on campus, as well as on the political scene. During these times, when we hit many emotional peaks and valleys, we should come together and unify to strengthen our self-perspective and esteem, so that our country and people may see these hard times come to pass.

I'd like to make acknowledgements to the following, for lending their efforts for the 1980-81 Eagle to make its annual landing. For, without them the task would have been a lot more difficult. They were Max Ward Delmar representatives, Joe Decatur and Pam Ledbetter, Dr. James F. Blue, Mrs. Marion Covington, Mr. A. M. Rivera, Mr. Thurman Prescott, Mrs. Lou Barnes, Yearbook Staff, Campus Echo, Ex-Umbra, Student Government Association, and the entire student body and Administration. Photography credits go to Joe Decatur, of Max Ward Delmar, and staff Photographers, Roy Harris, Phyllis Steadman, Phillip Jackson, and Steven Baird.

To all I say Thanks!

Orlando C. Neal,
Editor, 1980-81
